What does abundant living
mean to you?

Abundant living is...

sharing a good laugh
and a great story.

At United Methodist Communities we are dedicated to compassionately serving older adults so you are free to choose an abundant life. Community is at the heart of our faith-based organization. When you choose a United Methodist Community you are joining a family that has specialized in senior lifestyles for over a century. Our person-centered living philosophy and customized services enhance the lives of every person who calls United Methodist Communities home. This combination of humanity and vitality form the foundation for an abundant life.

Abundant living is...

interests and your passions.

Whatever you are passionate about is what we are passionate about. Life at United Methodist Communities is not the same-old, same old. An abundant life takes shape in so many ways: stretch your mind with amusing puzzles and games, hop on board as you take in an antique car show, see what's cooking at a colorful culinary workshop, join a line dance to show off your moves. With a never-ending variety of activities and amenities you can rekindle those things you love and explore new pursuits. And best of all, you'll have likeminded people to enjoy the memorable moments and engaging events you create at United Methodist Communities.
